

The Chords Picked By Dick

STAGE 2

Little did I know that the run in with the opiated woman would mean that I get to meet the infamous Don T. Move and The Bubbalo Riders. Sadly none of these greetings were of the cordial type. The woman was one of the Bubbalo Riders best ladies. And that Rider was none other than Dick Pickens. He had to be the dirtiest, most dumb creature to walk the San Juaquin Valley. But I didn't have it in me to end him. After our skirmish he lay next to a rock and played the most beautiful six string siren. Who would have thought?
